Squid Game – new TV series, definitely not for children!

The Netflix series revolves around a contest in which 456 players, all drawn from different walks of life but each deeply in debt, play a series of children's games with deadly penalties if they lose for the chance to win a huge monetary prize. This is graphic TV series which is absolutely not for primary aged children. It is a 15-age certificate. Myself and my colleagues have had several conversations with different children throughout the school this week about this TV programme; many of whom had told me that had watched the TV series or their older siblings (but still at Southfield) have watched it. If your children ask / beg / plead (delete as appropriate) you to watch it, don't give in to them. It is not a TV show that primary aged children should be watching.

Apologies for the delay

At the beginning of last week, I had promised a recording of the Ofsted parent meeting I hosted on Tuesday last week. This recording is coming soon. I have not been in school this week as I have been supporting a 2-day full Ofsted inspection at one of our other Trust schools. I will aim to get that recording to you by Wednesday next week. I am sorry for the delay.

FOSS Meeting – Monday 18th, 7.30pm

Our next meeting is this coming Monday at 7.30pm at The Bell pub in Brackley. It would be great to see some new faces and hopefully some new members join the committee.

INSET Day – 1st November

Just a quick reminder that school is closed to all children on Monday 1st November as it is our second INST day. All staff will be in school taking part in training for our new phonics and early reading scheme, Read Write Inc. The children return to school for the start of term 2 on Tuesday 2nd November.

With best wishes,

Matt Green
